DRIGGS IS INDICTED

CHARGED WITH UNLAWFULLY
RECEIVING A CHECK FOR PRO-CURING CONTRACTS.

New York, June 25.—Former Congressman Driggs was indicted by the federal grand jury in Brooklyn during the day. He appeared before Judge Thomas and gave bail. The indictment grew out of the investigation into postoffice affairs made by the grand jury.

Four indictments were found, all practically alike, charging that Driggs, between July 29 and 24, 1900, unlawfully agreed to receive and did receive a $500 check from the Brandt-Dent company for procuring a contract from the United States government for making and delivering 250 automatic cashiers for the postoffice department.

To the first two indictments Mr. Driggs pleaded not guilty, reserving the right to plead later to the others, which contain sixteen counts each, after his lawyer had read them.

Mr. Driggs refused absolutely to comment on his indictment. He has previously admitted, however, receiving a salary of $12,500 from the Brandt-Dent company for introducing its machines, but claimed that the work he did for the company was done before he was sworn in as a congressman, and after his election, and declaring that he had done nothing to which the government could object.

Insists Upon Punishment.

Washington, June 25.—President Roosevelt has sent a letter to Attorney General Knox insisting upon the punishment of those connected with the postal frauds, and urging that special counsel be engaged if deemed necessary.

Wisconsin Indian Ordained.

Oncida, Wis., June 25.—Rev. Cornelius Hill, who is known to his Indian brethren as Chief Onon-Gwat-Go, was ordained at the Episcopal church of the Holy Apostles, Hobart Mission, Oncida, Wis.

Fatal Shooting Affray.

Brookville, Fla., June 25.—W. B. Hueter and Mrs. Cephas Eiland were killed and Cephas Eiland badly wounded in a shooting affray at Spring Lake last night.

NAME THEIR TICKET

IOWA DEMOCRATS NOMINATE J. B. SULLIVAN FOR GOVERNOR BY ACCLAMATION.

GOLD ELEMENT IN CONTROL

MINORITY REPORT REAFFIRMING THE PLATFORM OF 1900 IS VOTED DOWN.

Des Moines, Ia., June 25.—The Democratic state convention by a vote of 463 9-10 to 354 1-10 late in the afternoon refused to adopt a minority report signed by four members of the committee on resolutions adding to the platform reported by the seven members constituting the majority of the committee a plank reaffirming the Democratic platform of 1900, and by a vote of 628 1/2 to 199 1/2 rejected another minority report adding to the plank demanding government control of railway charges a provision that in case such control should not prove effective the national government should acquire ownership of railroads.

The following ticket was decided upon:

Governor—J. B. Sullivan.
Lieutenant Governor—D. B. Butler.
Judge of Supreme Court—John R. Caldwell.

Superintendent of Public Instruction—A. R. McCook.
Railroad Commissioner—W. S. Porter.

All the nominations were made by acclamation, the friends of Judge A. A. Van Wagenen of Sioux City having concluded not to present his name for governor after it became apparent that the convention would not adopt a government ownership plank which he has favored. J. B. Sullivan, the nominee for governor, has been affiliated with the Bryan wing of the party, but he was acceptable to the gold Democrats.

Temporary Chairman Named.

State Chairman J. M. Jackson called the convention to order at 11 a. m. and named J. H. Quick of Sioux City as temporary chairman.

When the convention met at 2 o'clock, permanent organization was effected with D. W. Hamilton of Keokuk county as chairman. E. M. Hanson of Davenport presented the report of the committee on resolutions and made the only speech in its support. J. M. Parsons of Rock Rapids submitted the minority report in favor of government ownership, of which he was the only signer, and spoke in favor of its adoption. After the rejection of the report, W. H. Robb of Creston presented the reaffirmation plan. Its adoption was urged by Mr. Robb, G. S. Rhinehart, former Congressman, and W. S. Butler of Des Moines and C. P. Mackey of Sigourney. It was rejected and the report of the majority of the committee was adopted without division.

The preamble to the platform reads: "We find much in the domestic affairs of the nation that ought to be changed. The tariff policy, originally adopted for the avowed purpose of raising revenue to meet the enormous burdens of the Civil war, has been turned to the use of individual and class interests until it has become the creator of countless unearned fortunes and the shelter of huge combinations of capital, organized in the form of trusts, which are strangling competition in many of our industries, destroying individual effort, crushing ambition, largely in every line of industry, and already acquiring power which enables them to dictate in their own interest the price of labor and raw material and the cost of transportation of finished products."

Relating to State Affairs.

The platform as it relates to state affairs calls for economical government, equitable taxation of corporate and private property, the purchase of supplies from the lowest bidder, the substitution of a local option for the present malt law and state aid in the building of permanent buildings. The Louisiana Purchase exposition is endorsed. Government by injunction is denounced and the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people is demanded.

Further the platform reads: "We are unalterably opposed to the policy of imperialism by this government, instituted, fostered and maintained by the Republican party. And we demand that our government shall declare it to be its purpose and without delay adopt such measures as shall give to the people of the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico their inalienable right to self-government."

The platform then condemns the Republican party's financial policies, protests against the Aldrich bill for loaning money of the government, deplores the corruption in the postoffice department, refers to the alarming growth of the trust evils, favors revision of the tariff, opposes government by injunction, favors change in law to limit charges by railroads so that only a reasonable return on capital invested may be realized, and in conclusion advocates government action to obtain the equitable distribution of any commodity controlled exclusively by a combine which charges extortionate prices.

Mr. Bryan Declines to Talk.

Logansport, Ind., June 25.—W. J. Bryan, who arrived here from Columbus City, declined to discuss the action of the Iowa Democratic convention.

OBTAINS VALUABLE LAND.

State of Minnesota Enriched by Acquisition of a Large Ore Tract.

St. Paul, June 25.—Through the close work of State Auditor Iverson, Minnesota has been enriched to the extent of $1,000,000 by the granting of a disputed tract of forty acres in the Mesaba range to the state.

This tract has long been in dispute, being claimed by two Wisconsin men named Smith and Bradshaw, who are represented by Attorney John J. Skuse of Duluth, but had been claimed by the state as swamp land under an act of congress of March 12, 1860.

The history of the tract is a checkered one. It has been claimed by many persons and under many pretexts. So-called errors in the line of survey have figured largely, resurveya have been made, and technical difficulties have been evolved, seemingly out of nothingness, and all because it was positively known that the same priceless iron lead that has made the Saulty, Oliver and Alpena mines so valuable runs through it.

Upon the point of whether or not this tract should be considered "swamp lands" depends the validity of the state's claim. Surveyor General Warner has had many examinations made of all the claimants, and the present lessee, Mabel Evans, has gone over the ground in company with State Auditor Iverson, and the result of it all was that it was selected as "swamp lands" on a decision of Surveyor General Warner.

DECIDED LOVE FEAST.

Debate on Irish Land Bill Very Amicable.

London, June 25.—The debate on the Irish land bill in the house last night was a decided love feast. The evening was spent in the submission of amendments by the Nationalist members which were successively debated in an amicable spirit and then withdrawn without division. The concessions offered by Mr. Wyndham insure the passage of the bill almost beyond a doubt.

SIX MEN SHOT DOWN

STREET RAILWAY DETECTIVES

FIRE INTO A CROWD AT RICHMOND, VA.

Richmond, Va., June 25.—Six men were wounded last night, two of them seriously, by street railway company detectives, who fired into a crowd of strike sympathizers at a point just outside the city limits. A car guarded by employees of the companies armed with shotguns was standing surrounded by a big crowd. The company claims the guards were first fired on. In return they fired into the crowd and a brisk fusillade followed. At least six persons were struck and two of them seriously hurt, being struck in the back with buckshot.

While this was taking place in the West Side, exciting scenes were enacted in the East End, where efforts were being made to operate cars under the protection of the military. All sorts of missiles were hurled at the cars and obstructions placed on the track. Finally the cars under the pilotage of a detachment of the Richmond Howitzers with a Gatling gun, were taken to the barns. All cars were withdrawn from the streets at 9:45 p. m. for the night. Five companies of the Seventy-first regiment from Norfolk and Newport News are ordered to this city to reinforce the troops here. The mayor has issued an address asking women and children to keep off the streets today.

Three of the militiamen were wounded by an accidental discharge of a rifle. One of them was taken to a hospital, but was not dangerously injured.

At 11 o'clock last night Sheriff Solomons decided to ask for troops. He made the request and the governor issued orders to the military authorities accordingly. Militia will therefore guard the cars and car barns and patrol the lines of the street car company today without as well as within the city limits.

ROW OVER CARDS.

Two Women and a Man Injured at Courtney, Pa.

Monongahela City, Pa., June 25.—A game of cards at Courtney last night probably will cost the lives of two women and one man. Joseph Bruno and Rosario Roano were playing cards at the latter's home with a keg of beer as a stake. Bruno was loser and refused to pay the bet. This precipitated a fight between the men, upon which Bruno left the house and went to his home, where he procured a shotgun and returned to Roano's. When near the house, Bruno met Roano's wife and struck her a fearful blow on the head with the butt of his gun, laying the scalp open. Roano sprang to the road with a shotgun in front of Bruno and fired point-blank at him, the entire charge of shot entering his body. He fell to the ground unconscious. Roano, seeing Bruno's wife, who had followed him to the fatal spot, felled her with a crushing blow. Roano was arrested.

INCLUDES MONTANA TOWNS.

New District Added to United Mine Workers.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 24.—A new district has been added to the United Mine Workers, the first for several years. It is known as "District No. 22," and includes all but one of the mining towns of Montana. M. F. Purcell of Stockport, Mont., is president and D. M. Berger of Red Lodge is secretary.

HONOR FOR THE NAVY

EMPEROR WILLIAM EXTENDS EXCEPTIONAL COURTESY TO AMERICAN SQUADRON.

GREETED BY A CANNONADE

OVER A THOUSAND GUNS ROAR FORTH A SALUTE TO THE GERMAN RULER.

Kiel, Prussia, June 25.—Emperor William arrived here at 6 o'clock in the evening on board the Hohenzollern. When the imperial yacht was sighted steaming into Kiel harbor she had the Stars and Stripes flying from the after mast, and as she sailed by Rear Admiral Cotton's flagship, the Kearsarge, the imperial colors, floating at the stern, were dipped three times. This courtesy, being without precedent in the German navy, caused Rear Admiral Cotton, at an audience he had later with the emperor, to thank his majesty in the name of the president of the United States for the honor shown to the American navy.

The emperor's entrance into the harbor was the occasion for a tremendous cannonade, each of the thirty-two warships firing thirty-three guns, the Americans observing the German regulation for honoring the sovereign. As the smoke from the thousand guns blew aside, the Hohenzollern entered the lane of warships, at the upper end of which were the American vessels. The emperor stood alone on the upper bridge. The crews manning the cross-trees, turrets and sides of each of the American ships gave his majesty three cheers as the yacht passed, which he acknowledged by saluting continuously. The imperial colors were flown from the after mast of each American warship. Aboard the Kearsarge was a party of Americans including Ambassador Tower, R. R. Pitt, Secretary of the Berlin embassy, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Mrs. Pitts, wife of the United States naval attaché.

Officers Visit the Emperor.

Earlier in the day Rear Admiral Cotton had received a telegram from the emperor saying his majesty would be pleased to receive him and the other American commanders as soon as possible after his arrival. Consequently, the rear admiral assembled the captains on his flagship and just as the Hohenzollern was attached to her mooring buoy, Rear Admiral Cotton's barge reached the yacht's gangway. Captain Usedom met Rear Admiral Cotton, Captains Walker, Hemphill, Cornwall and McCrea, Lieutenant Hussey of the admiral's staff, and Naval Attache Potts at the head of the gangway and presented them to Emperor William, who was standing two or three steps away, with his suite grouped behind him. His majesty shook hands and conversed for a minute with each of the American officers, saying how glad he was to see them in German waters. Turning to Rear Admiral Cotton the emperor said: "You were in the monitor at Hampton Roads, were you not?" "Not in the monitor, sir," replied the admiral, "but in another ship, which stuck in a sandbank."

His majesty alluded to other incidents in Admiral Cotton's career, and said he wished to visit the Kearsarge and would be pleased to take lunch aboard her. Rear Admiral Cotton and his captains then retired.

The emperor's arrival was an hour later than expected.

It was now 7 o'clock and his majesty, therefore, did not visit the Kearsarge last night. Leave was given to 350 men from the American crews to go on shore. They were taken in charge individually and in groups by the German sailors, who treated them in the most hospitable manner.

NEW RULER WELCOMED.

King Peter Enthusiastically Greeted on His Arrival at Belgrade.

Belgrade, Serbia, June 25.—King Peter arrived here at 10 a. m. He was received with great enthusiasm. The ministers, government officials, judges, municipal and military authorities and leading citizens were assembled on the platform of the railroad station, which was profusely decorated. The only foreign representatives who participated in the reception of the king was the Russian minister, M. Tcharykoff, and the Austrian minister, Herr Munia, with the members of their respective legations.

King Peter made a speech in which he said he would try to rule the Serbians as they wished to be ruled.

POPE LEO LOOKS BETTER.

Imposes Red Birettas on Three New Cardinals With Great Ceremony.

Rome, June 25.—In the throne room at the vatican, surrounded by his whole court, Pope Leo, who looked much better than at Monday's consistory, imposed with great ceremony the red birettas on the new cardinals, Monsignors Nocella, Cavicchioni and Fischer, and congratulated them on the high honor they had attained. Cardinal Nocella, in the name of his colleagues, thanked the pontiff in a brief speech and then made a move to retire, but his holiness detained the new cardinals and insisted on having them in his private study, where he kept them in conversation for some time.

DEMANDS ELLIS ISLAND.

New Jersey Corporation Seeks to Oust the Immigration Commissioner.

New York June 25.—A peculiar action was commenced in the United States circuit court Wednesday, where in "The General Properties of the Eastern Division of New Jersey," is complainant and William Williams, United States commissioner of immigration, is defendant. The plaintiff claims that the defendant is wrongfully withholding from it the property known as Ellis Island and demands the same.

The petition recites the fact that the plaintiff is a corporation organized prior to the independence of the United States under charter from the King of Great Britain and Ireland and now exists as a corporation under and pursuant to the laws and constitution of New Jersey. The plaintiff then claims that it is "seized and entitled to" all that certain island or tract of land known as Ellis Island, situated in the harbor of New York, containing about two acres.

The petition charges that the defendant is in possession thereof and withholds the same from plaintiff, that its value is not less than $20,000 and that the plaintiff is damaged in a sum not less than $10,000 and asks that it be awarded that sum and possession of the property mentioned.

CHANGE OF VENUE GRANTED.

Place Where Tillman Will Be Tried Not Yet Selected.

Columbia, S. C., June 25.—Argument on the motion for a change of venue in the case of James H. Tillman, indicted for murder, was concluded Wednesday afternoon and Judge Townsend announced his decision that the change should be granted. Counsel disagreed concerning the county where the case should be sent and this was left undecided for the present. The case must be tried in this judicial circuit, in which there are five counties.

Pass Mental Examinations.

Annapolis, Md., June 25.—The following candidates have successfully passed their mental examinations as midshipmen: Richard Hill, Iowa; C. N. Kilcamp, Wisconsin; Charles Hoe, Montana; H. L. Holden, Wisconsin; M. James, Iowa; C. Joerns, Minnesota.

Murderer Eludes Mob.

Peoria, Ill., June 25.—John McCray, the negro who killed Detective W. E. Murphy Tuesday night, was spirited out of the county jail through a door in the rear to escape a mob, and taken to Galesburg, where he will be imprisoned until the date for his trial.

HONOR FOR THE NAVY

EMPEROR WILLIAM EXTENDS EXCEPTIONAL COURTESY TO AMERICAN SQUADRON.

GREETER BY A CANNONADE

OVER A THOUSAND GUNS ROAR FORTH A SALUTE TO THE GERMAN RULER.

Kiel, Prussia, June 25.—Emperor William arrived here at 6 o'clock in the evening on board the Hohenzollern. When the imperial yacht was sighted steaming into Kiel harbor she had the Stars and Stripes flying from the after mast, and as she sailed by Rear Admiral Cotton's flagship, the Kearsarge, the imperial colors, floating at the stern, were dipped three times. This courtesy, being without precedent in the German navy, caused Rear Admiral Cotton, at an audience he had later with the emperor, to thank his majesty in the name of the president of the United States for the honor shown to the American navy.

The emperor's entrance into the harbor was the occasion for a tremendous cannonade, each of the thirty-two warships firing thirty-three guns, the Americans observing the German regulation for honoring the sovereign. As the smoke from the thousand guns blew aside, the Hohenzollern entered the lane of warships, at the upper end of which were the American vessels. The emperor stood alone on the upper bridge. The crews manning the cross-trees, turrets and sides of each of the American ships gave his majesty three cheers as the yacht passed, which he acknowledged by saluting continuously. The imperial colors were flown from the after mast of each American warship. Aboard the Kearsarge was a party of Americans including Ambassador Tower, R. R. Pitt, Secretary of the Berlin embassy, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Mrs. Pitts, wife of the United States naval attaché.

Officers Visit the Emperor.

Earlier in the day Rear Admiral Cotton had received a telegram from the emperor saying his majesty would be pleased to receive him and the other American commanders as soon as possible after his arrival. Consequently the rear admiral assembled the captains on his flagship and just as the Hohenzollern was attached to her mooring buoy, Rear Admiral Cotton's barge reached the yacht's gangway. Captain Usedom met Rear Admiral Cotton, Captains Walker, Hemphill, Cornwall and McCrea, Lieutenant Hussey of the admiral's staff, and Naval Attache Potts at the head of the gangway and presented them to Emperor William, who was standing two or three steps away, with his suite grouped behind him. His majesty shook hands and conversed for a minute with each of the American officers, saying how glad he was to see them in German waters. Turning to Rear Admiral Cotton the emperor said: "You were in the monitor at Hampton Roads, were you not?"

"Not in the monitor, sir," replied the admiral, "but in another ship, which stuck in a sandbank."

His majesty alluded to other incidents in Admiral Cotton's career, and said he wished to visit the Kearsarge and would be pleased to take lunch aboard her. Rear Admiral Cotton and his captains then retired.

The emperor's arrival was an hour later than expected.

It was now 7 o'clock and his majesty, therefore, did not visit the Kearsarge last night.

Leave was given to 350 men from the American crews to go on shore. They were taken in charge individually and in groups by the German sailors, who treated them in the most hospitable manner.

NEW RULER WELCOMED.

King Peter Enthusiastically Greeted on His Arrival at Belgrade.

Belgrade, Serbia, June 25.—King Peter arrived here at 10 a. m. He was received with great enthusiasm. The ministers, government officials, judges, municipal and military authorities and leading citizens were assembled on the platform of the railroad station, which was profusely decorated. The only foreign representatives who participated in the reception of the king was the Russian minister, M. Tcharykoff, and the Austrian minister, Herr Mumba, with the members of their respective legations.

King Peter made a speech in which he said he would try to rule the Serbians as they wished to be ruled.

POPE LEO LOOKS BETTER.

Imposes Red Birettas on Three New Cardinals With Great Ceremony.

Rome, June 25.—In the throne room at the vatican, surrounded by his whole court, Pope Leo, who looked much better than at Monday's convalescence, imposed with great ceremony the red birettas on the new cardinals, Monsignor Nocella, Cavicchioni and Fischer, and congratulated them on the high honor they had attained. Cardinal Nocella, in the name of his colleagues, thanked the pontiff in a brief speech and then made a move to retire, but his holiness detained the new cardinals and insisted on having them in his private study, where he kept them in conversation for some time.

DEMANDS ELLIS ISLAND.

New Jersey Corporation Seeks to Oust the Immigration Commissioner.

New York June 25.—A peculiar action was commenced in the United States circuit court Wednesday, where in "The General Properties of the Eastern Division of New Jersey," is complainant and William Williams, United States commissioner of immigration, is defendant. The plaintiff claims that the defendant is wrongfully withholding from it the property known as Ellis Island and demands the same.

The petition recites the fact that the plaintiff is a corporation organized prior to the independence of the United States under charter from the King of Great Britain and Ireland and now exists as a corporation under and pursuant to the laws and constitution of New Jersey. The plaintiff then claims that it is "seized and entitled to" all that certain island or tract of land known as Ellis Island, situated in the harbor of New York, containing about two acres.

The petition charges that the defendant is in possession thereof and withholds the same from plaintiff, that its value is not less than $20,000 and that the plaintiff is damaged in a sum not less than $10,000 and asks that it be awarded that sum and possession of the property mentioned.

CHANGE OF VENUE GRANTED.

Place Where Tillman Will Be Tried Not Yet Selected.

Columbia, S. C., June 25.—Argument on the motion for a change of venue in the case of James H. Tillman, indicted for murder, was concluded Wednesday afternoon and Judge Townsend announced his decision that the change should be granted. Counsel disagreed concerning the county where the case should be sent and this was left undecided for the present. The case must be tried in this judicial circuit, in which there are five counties.

Pass Mental Examinations.

Annapolis, Md., June 25.—The following candidates have successfully passed their mental examinations as midshipmen: Richard Hill, Iowa; C. N. Kilcamp, Wisconsin; Charles Hoe, Montana; H. L. Holden, Wisconsin; M. James, Iowa; C. Joerns, Minnesota.

Murderer Eludes Mob.

Peoria, Ill., June 25.—John McCray, the negro who killed Detective W. E. Murphy Tuesday night, was spirited out of the county jail through a door in the rear to escape a mob, and taken to Galesburg, where he will be imprisoned until the date for the trial.

WHY EXPERIMENT LONGER ?

BEBEL THE SOCIALIST.

Personality of Germany's Man of the Hour.

LEADER OF SOCIAL DEMOCRATS.

Frail in Physique, but a Most Formidable Debater Who Can Easily Enthrall an Audience by His Oratory—His Remarkable Prophecy and Warning to Germany's Crown Prince.

August Bebel is the man of the hour in Germany. He is the leader of the Social Democrats, who have just cast a vote of 3,000,000, or one-third of the entire vote of the empire, says the New York World.

He was born in Cologne in 1840, the son of a sergeant in an infantry regiment. He was apprenticed to a turner, and when his trade was learned he tramped through Germany, getting work wherever he could. He joined the Social Democratic party, founded by William Liebknecht, forty years ago. Both he and Liebknecht were sentenced to imprisonment in 1872, serving two years each. In 1886 he served another sentence of nine months and has suffered many shorter terms of imprisonment for his opinion's sake. Of these imprisonments he has often spoken with cheerfulness.

"Altogether," he once said to an interviewer, "I have been behind the bars fifty-seven months and each time for political reasons. My fortress life I call my university life, for it was there I first had the chance to study in peace." His first and most successful book, "Die Frau," was planned in prison. There, too, he learned the English language. He has written many other works, but "Die Frau" is the most widely read of them all. It has had twenty-five editions in Germany and has been translated into fifteen other languages. It deals with the industrial conditions in which women have been forced to live. Bebel is a stout champion of woman's equality before the law and at the ballot box.

He has at all times shown himself a lion hearted leader. On Bismarck's eightieth birthday he led the Socialist members of the reichstag in their refusal to send congratulations to "the man of blood and iron." "Why," he asked, "should we send greetings to him? He has persecuted us, banished us and urged the emperor to 'yank us into the street and shoot us down.'" But German unity Bebel glorifies in, though he does not credit it to Bismarck.

He has shown bravery again in his denunciation of the annexation of Alsace and Lorraine. "It was a great mistake," he says, "and is the cause of all the armaments that now burden Europe." The German and French people should, he insists, be reconciled and disband their great armies.

Believing thoroughly in theoretic socialism as taught by Carl Marx, he is nevertheless active in the reichstag in his efforts to secure immediate installments of reform. He is now sixty-three years of age, and his physique is frail. Yet he is easily the most formidable debater on the opposition side of the chamber. He can easily hold an audience for six hours on end by the spell of his earnest and effective oratory. He is absolutely beloved by the rank and file of the party which has just scored an increase of 400,000 votes in the empire.

He was the uncompromising foe of the new tariff, with its high duties on imported food. He bitterly denounced them as "hunger duties." He characterized the German army's exploits in China as "shameful" and said they were marked by "bestiality lower than among beasts." He blamed the emperor for it all because of his order that no mercy should be shown. He has repeatedly criticised and censured William II. for his public utterances, and once he intimated that he thought the emperor was insane. This was on the occasion of the latter's speech to young recruits telling them they must be ready if needs be to kill their own fathers and mothers.

Very remarkable for its intense feeling and bold prophecy was Herr Bebel's speech of Jan. 22 last, in which he spoke of the emperor's attitude toward the socialists in exceedingly plain terms. He recalled the emperor's declaration that he and his party were "enemies of the state" and "men unworthy to bear the name of Germans" and proceeded to utter this remarkable prophecy:

Our party has not only been most offensively condemned in the lump, but in the emperor's last speeches we, the representatives of the party, have been attacked with the severest expressions. The workmen are directly enjoined to hold aloof from us because we are dangerous persons. These attacks, gentlemen, which cannot be endured forever—attacks against the strongest party in Germany, a party which, look at it as you will, plays a very decisive part in the policy of the German empire. We are not only by far the strongest party in Germany, but we shall be still stronger after the next elections—I am not bragging—and by and by we shall have the majority of German voters on our side and perhaps some day also the majority of deputies.

That prophecy is now fulfilled in so far as it relates to the elections of 1903. Continuing his now famous speech, Bebel said:

Now, gentlemen, it is not enough that the German emperor speaks against us, but his son, too, the crown prince of the German empire, comes forward to imitate him. This young gentleman, twenty years old, steps forward to talk of our party as "wretches." What kind of service has this young gentleman given to the state that he dare take it upon himself thus to speak of the German Social Democrats? Of course we don't mind it. If we are called the "party of wretches" we know that in the end the name will become a title of honor among us, even as the name of "beggars" became a title among the Dutch aristocracy and Dutch burghers when they were fighting against the Spanish conquerors who fastened it upon them. Perhaps before long, at a meeting of Social Democrats, we may decide to adapt the title of "the Party of Wretches," and in this way we shall ring the gauntlet in the young gentleman's face. Meantime, as the young man has, according to human reckoning, some distance yet to travel before he reaches the throne, I think he might employ the journey more profitably than in making enemies of the Social Democrats. This enemy might not be useful to his future as a German emperor, for by that time the power of German Social Democracy may be very different from what it is to-day.

Considering that Bebel's party would now have fully one-third of the reichstag seats if seats were apportioned to votes, this warning to the crown prince was by no means an empty one.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

Nelson Brothers to Pay the Extreme Penalty for Murder.

Owatonna, Minn., June 25.—Charles and Henry Nelson, convicted of the murder of Harry N. Krier, April 13, were sentenced to the death penalty by Judge Buckham, in the district court Wednesday afternoon. William A. Sutton, an accessory to the crime, who had pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree, was sentenced to the state prison at hard labor for life.

The attorneys of the defendants are taking immediate steps to bring the case to the notice of the pardoning board to have the sentence changed to life imprisonment.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY.

Spokane Jury Exonerates Mrs. De Lartigue of Murdering Her Husband.

Spokane, Wash., June 25.—The jury in the trial of Amanda de Lartigue for murder, brought in a verdict of not guilty Wednesday. Henry de Lartigue, a farmer, disappeared last September. His wife said he had gone to Honolulu. Last winter his body was found hidden in a potato field near his home. During the trial Mrs. de Lartigue confessed that she killed him Sept. 23, and buried his body. She declared that he attacked her with a gun and she hit him with an axe. Evidently the jury accepted this theory.

BEBEL THE SOCIALIST.

Personality of Germany's Man of the Hour.

LEADER OF SOCIAL DEMOCRATS.

Frail in Physique, but a Most Formidable Debater Who Can Easily Enthrall an Audience by His Oratory—His Remarkable Prophecy and Warning to Germany's Crown Prince.

August Bebel is the man of the hour in Germany. He is the leader of the Social Democrats, who have just cast a vote of 3,000,000, or one-third of the entire vote of the empire, says the New York World.

He was born in Cologne in 1840, the son of a sergeant in an infantry regiment. He was apprenticed to a turner, and when his trade was learned he tramped through Germany, getting work wherever he could. He joined the Social Democratic party, founded by William Liebknecht, forty years ago. Both he and Liebknecht were sentenced to imprisonment in 1872, serving two years each. In 1886 he served another sentence of nine months and has suffered many shorter terms of imprisonment for his opinion's sake. Of these imprisonments he has often spoken with cheerfulness.

"Altogether," he once said to an interviewer, "I have been behind the bars fifty-seven months and each time for political reasons. My fortress life I call my university life, for it was there I first had the chance to study in peace." His first and most successful book, "Die Frau," was planned in prison. There, too, he learned the English language. He has written many other works, but "Die Frau" is the most widely read of them all. It has had twenty-five editions in Germany and has been translated into fifteen other languages. It deals with the industrial conditions in which women have been forced to live. Bebel is a stout champion of woman's equality before the law and at the ballot box.

He has at all times shown himself a lion hearted leader. On Bismarck's eightieth birthday he led the Socialist members of the reichstag in their refusal to send congratulations to "the man of blood and iron." "Why," he asked, "should we send greetings to him? He has persecuted us, banished us and urged the emperor to 'rank us into the street and shoot us down.'" But German unity Bebel glories in, though he does not credit it to Bismarck.

He has shown bravery again in his denunciation of the annexation of Alsace and Lorraine. "It was a great mistake," he says, "and is the cause of all the armaments that now burden Europe." The German and French people should, he insists, be reconciled and disband their great armies.

Believing thoroughly in theoretic socialism as taught by Carl Marx, he is nevertheless active in the reichstag in his efforts to secure immediate installments of reform. He is now sixty-three years of age, and his physique is frail. Yet he is easily the most formidable debater on the opposition side of the chamber. He can easily hold an audience for six hours on end by the spell of his earnest and effective oratory. He is absolutely beloved by the rank and file of the party which has just scored an increase of 400,000 votes in the empire.

He was the uncompromising foe of the new tariff, with its high duties on imported food. He bitterly denounced them as "hunger duties." He characterized the German army's exploits in China as "shameful" and said they were marked by "bestiality lower than among beasts." He blamed the emperor for it all because of his order that no mercy should be shown. He has repeatedly criticised and censured William II. for his public utterances, and once he intimated that he thought the emperor was insane. This was on the occasion of the latter's speech to young recruits telling them they must be ready if needs be to kill their own fathers and mothers.

Very remarkable for its intense feeling and bold prophecy was Herr Bebel's speech of Jan. 22 last, in which he spoke of the emperor's attitude toward the socialists in exceedingly plain terms. He recalled the emperor's declaration that he and his party were "enemies of the state" and "men unworthy to bear the name of Germans" and proceeded to utter this remarkable prophecy:

Our party has not only been most offensively condemned in the lump, but in the emperor's last speeches we, the representatives of the party, have been attacked with the severest expressions. The workmen are directly enjoined to hold aloof from us because we are dangerous persons. These are attacks, gentlemen, which cannot be endured forever—attacks against the strongest party in Germany, a party which, look at it as you will, plays a very decisive part in the policy of the German empire. We are not only by far the strongest party in Germany, but we shall be still stronger after the next elections—I am not bragging—and by and by we shall have the majority of German voters on our side and perhaps some day also the majority of deputies.

Now, gentlemen, it is not enough that the German emperor speaks against us, but his son, too, the crown prince of the German empire, comes forward to imitate him. This young gentleman, twenty years old, steps forward to talk of our party as "wretches." What kind of service has this young gentleman given to the state that he dare take it upon himself thus to speak of the German Social Democrats? Of course we don't mind it, if we are called the "party of wretches" we know that in the end the name will become a title of honor among us, even as the name of "beggars" became a title among the Dutch aristocracy and Dutch burghers when they were fighting against the Spanish conquerors who fastened it upon them. Perhaps before long, at a meeting of Social Democrats, we may decide to adapt the title of "the Party of Wretches," and in this way we shall fling the gauntlet in the young gentleman's face. Meantime, as the young man has, according to human reckoning, some distance yet to travel before he reaches the throne, I think he might employ the journey more profitably than in making enemies of the Social Democrats. This enmity might not be useful to his future as German emperor, for by that time the power of German Social Democracy may be very different from what it is to-day.

Considering that Bebel's party would now have fully one-third of the reichstag seats if seats were apportioned to votes, this warning to the crown prince was by no means an empty one.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

Nelson Brothers to Pay the Extreme Penalty for Murder.

Owatonna, Minn., June 25.—Charles and Henry Nelson, convicted of the murder of Harry N. Krier, April 13, were sentenced to the death penalty by Judge Buckham, in the district court Wednesday afternoon. William A. Sutton, an accessory to the crime, who had pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree, was sentenced to the state prison at hard labor for life. The attorneys of the defendants are taking immediate steps to bring the case to the notice of the pardoning board to have the sentence changed to life imprisonment.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY.

Spokane Jury Exonerates Mrs. De Lartigue of Murdering Her Husband.

Spokane, Wash., June 25.—The jury in the trial of Amanda de Lartigue for murder, brought in a verdict of not guilty Wednesday. Henry de Lartigue, a farmer, disappeared last September. His wife said he had gone to Honolulu. Last winter his body was found hidden in a potato field near his home. During the trial Mrs. de Lartigue confessed that she killed him Sept. 23, and buried his body. She declared that he attacked her with a gun and she hit him with an axe. Evidently the jury accepted this theory.

SHE HAS FLOWN WITH HER YOUNG ONES

Claimed That a Defendant in a Divorce Suit Foretold the Probable Outcome.

FOLDED HER TENT AND HIKE.

Benjamin Henry Brings Divorce Suit Against His Wife Ada on Serious Charge.

Here the first steps in a rather sensational divorce suit have been recorded, a rather romantic and somewhat sensational maneuver has been made by the defendant in the suit with a coup de grace that for the time being has rather bewildered the plaintiff, and it seems that it is all over the custody of the two little children of the parties.

The plaintiff in the suit is Benjamin Henry, a well known and respected young man of this city, and he has been foiled at the outstart in his efforts to maintain the custody of his two little children, a boy and a girl, the mother, Mrs. Ada Henry, having left for parts unknown in a rather unceremonious manner night before last, for the purpose, it is claimed by Mr. Henry, of getting the children from him, well knowing that the result of the suit brought against her would terminate in his favor and believing, as he claims, that the court will give him the custody of the two children.

The charges in the complaint are of a rather sensational character, and if as stated by the plaintiff in the complaint, would justify any benedict in taking the necessary steps to sever the matrimonial ties.

The case will come up before Judge McClenahan in this city on June 30, and it is claimed that the defendant will put in no answer whatever, but will make an effort to secure the custody of the children by an order of the court.

MERRY STRING IN POLICE COURT

Two Inhabitants of the Point Appear and Pay a Fine of $5 and Costs Apiece—Other Cases.

Judge Warner is doing a land office business these days in municipal court, and almost every morning now there are one or two among the prisoners who have come to stand up and receive their sentence who are of the gentler sex.

May McDonald and Lena Anderson answered to the charge of frequenting a house of ill fame, but they were really pulled because they had been frequenting a saloon. They were fined $5 each and cost.

J. Colson got a load on last night and wanted a shave at the Warren barber shop after hours. He was juggled and this morning paid $5 and costs for his sport.

There were two fresh individuals in court this morning charged with assault in the third degree. Not fresh in the usual way, but they have not been over from Finland long and they were not on to the ways of doing things. They got mad in Finland just the same, and of course had been taught to defend their rights there and that is why they say they licked the stuffing out of one Henry Moliina. They plead not guilty and their case was set for Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The names of the defendants were Freeten Lundquist and Anton Smith.

I. O. O. F. GROWING.

According to the Report of the Grand Secretary There Has been a Substantial Gain Lately.

According to the report of Grand Secretary A. L. Bolton, which was made yesterday at the grand lodge meeting in St. Paul, there has been a substantial gain in the membership of the Odd Fellows since the last grand lodge meeting. The total number of initiations was 1,634. The total membership of the order in Minnesota now is 18,245. The total receipts for the year were $224,009.31. Out of this nearly $30,000 was spent for relief and $125,000 for the ordinary running expenses of the order. The total assets of the order in Minnesota are figured at $1,050,786.36. Incidentally the secretary criticized some subordinate lodges which had grown careless in observance of the ritual. In one lodge the officers had been installed by lady members of the Rebekahs.

As to the women's branch, there are 168 lodges, and they have spent in relief during the year less than $1,500. The expense of the women's branch was close to $10,000.

St. Paul leads with the largest lodge of the order in Minnesota, Capital City lodge, No. 48, being credited with 434 members. Minneapolis has the next largest lodge—the Northern Light, with 365.

Several important amendments to the constitution will be considered. Perhaps the most important is the reduction in the initiatory and degree fee, the figure under the amendment being reduced from $5 to $2. This price is to apply in the case of all degrees and is to be payable on application for admittance. The present figure, it is claimed, greatly handicaps the advance of the order.

Another important amendment is the change in the grand lodge meetings from June to May of each year. The warm period is the excuse offered in this case and there is little doubt but that the amendment will prevail. Nearly a score of other amendments are up for consideration, but those named will have the liveliest consideration.

HE GAVE FIGURES ON A NEW PLANT

Expert F. W. Cappelen Estimates Cost of New Water Works Plant Here.

IT WOULD COST ABOUT $200,000

Committee Secures Some Figures and Facts on Matter From This Gentleman.

Before F. W. Cappelen, the expert engineer of Minneapolis, left the city, the committee which has under consideration the water works plant in this city, interviewed the gentleman and secured some information relative to water works and water works systems.

He estimated that the cost of a plant, should the city or a private corporation decide to put one in, would cost, approximately $200,000. He estimated the cost of a pumping station at $35,000 and the cost of laying the mains at $7,000 per mile. Figuring the distance of water mains required in the city at about twenty miles, the cost would be about $140,000.

In addition to this phase of the question Mr. Cappelen gave further information which will be of value to the committee.

TAKEN FOR CARRIE NATION.

Mrs. Rev. Wald, of Christine, N. D., Unconscious of the Fact, Picked Out as the Window Smasher.

There are always a lot of people around the depot in this city whose sole purpose in being there at train time is to watch out for "something doing," and "buttsky" fashion they are the first to pipe off something of unusual occurrence. The wise ones are busier than ever today and quite a furor was created when one of the bunch with a low forehead, gave the reporter a nudge and a look as though he had been smashed in the sneller with a hatchet in a riot, and pointing to a stout, well dressed, pleasant looking woman said, "Dare's Carrie Nation."

Well, the word had been passed down the pike and the rubbernecks, door-step warmers, pikers, soothsayers and gossipers huddled together and began to look dizzy-like at the lady, and every move that she made was watched with interest, for she would surely break out in a minute or two, whip her little hatchet out from beneath the inner linings of her dress, snort the air and open up the campaign in Brainerd in the good old Kansas style.

Finally a well dressed clerical gentleman stepped up to her and one of the wise ones ventured that "he was de main guy" who wrote Carrie's press stuff. But there was nothing but dismay when all these who were looking for "something doing" found that the lady and her escort had boarded the train for Fargo, but it was finally decided that she had passed Brainerd up as a past redemption proposition, and the crowd dispersed to tell their friends up town that they had seen the real thing.

The gentleman referred to above was Rev. Fald, of Christine, N. D., and the lady was none other than his wife, a lady of refinement, who will doubtless not consider it a compliment to learn that she was taken for Carrie Nation.

Rev. and Mrs. Fald had been to Duluth to attend the big United Norwegian Lutheran meeting.

DIED VERY SUDDENLY.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Carmichael Bereaved by the Sudden Taking Off of Their Little Daughter.

Grace Lorette, the four months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Carmichael, of Sixth street north, died this morning at 6 o'clock very suddenly and the parents are heart broken.

The little girl had been sick with the measles, but had almost fully recovered. This morning early she was feeling rather badly and the mother took the child in her arms to rock it to sleep. A short time after this, before a physician could reach the house, the baby died in its mother's arms. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of many friends and neighbors in this city.

Dr. Thabes was called and gave as the cause of death heart failure. (St. Paul and Minneapolis papers please copy.)

BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING.

Miss Barbara Gibb, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibb, Married to Mr. Ellsworth Martin.

There was a very pretty home wedding last evening when Miss Barbara Gibb, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibb, who live six miles south of the city, was married to Mr. Ellsworth Martin, formerly of Eagle Lake, east of the city. The ceremony occurred at the home of the bride at 8 o'clock, Rev. A. H. Carver, of this city, officiating.

The parlors were decorated for the event with ferns and roses in profusion. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Gibb, of Minneapolis, and Mr. Fred Martin, brother of the groom was best man. A wedding supper was served after the ceremony.

The bride has been a popular teacher in this county and the groom is a fireman on the Northern Pacific between Staples and St. Paul. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will make their home at Staples. They have the best wishes of a large number of friends in this county.

CROPS DOING WELL.

Crow Wing County Farmers Satisfied that the Condition is in as Good as Former Years if not Better

Crops in Crow Wing county will average up about as well as in former years and in some places they will be a great deal better. While there is a cry of dry weather all over the northwest almost, this section of the country has not felt the drought as much. Early in the spring the prospects were not so good, but then it was on account of too much moisture. The crops are a little late on this account but the weather has been especially favorable and all look for a good yield.

Gollmar Bros. Circus.

In speaking of Gollmar Bros.' circus, which is to appear in Brainerd on July 11, an exchange says:

"The performance given here by Gollmar Bros.' circus last Wednesday was largely attended at both afternoon and evening performances and were in every respect first class. This has been Gollmar Bros. third visit to our city and they always brought a good show, but since their last visit the show has been enlarged to twice its former size and undoubtedly makes them one of the leading shows of the world. The menagerie alone which is to see is worth the price of admission. The performance under the monster three ring tent was of a high order and appreciated by the large crowd. The street parade which took place at 10 a. m. was a grand display and worth coming miles to see. The proprietors are all gentlemen, kind, courteous and deserve the large patronage they are receiving."

SHE HAS FLOWN WITH HER YOUNG ONES

Claimed That a Defendant in a Divorce Suit Foretold the Probable Outcome.

FOLDED HER TENT AND HIKE.

Benjamin Henry Brings Divorce Suit Against His Wife Ada on Serious Charge.

Ere the first steps in a rather sensational divorce suit have been recorded, a rather romantic and somewhat sensational maneuver has been made by the defendant in the suit with a coup de grace that for the time being has rather bewildered the plaintiff, and it seems that it is all over the custody of the two little children of the parties.

The plaintiff in the suit is Benjamin Henry, a well known and respected young man of this city, and he has been foiled at the outstart in his efforts to maintain the custody of his two little children, a boy and a girl, the mother, Mrs. Ada Henry, having left for parts unknown in a rather unceremonious manner night before last, for the purpose, it is claimed by Mr. Henry, of getting the children from him, well knowing that the result of the suit brought against her would terminate in his favor and believing, as he claims, that the court will give him the custody of the two children.

The charges in the complaint are of a rather sensational character, and if as stated by the plaintiff in the complaint, would justify any benedict in taking the necessary steps to sever the matrimonial ties.

The case will come up before Judge McClenahan in this city on June 30, and it is claimed that the defendant will put in no answer whatever, but will make an effort to secure the custody of the children by an order of the court.

MERRY STRING IN POLICE COURT

Two Inhabitants of the Point Appear and Pay a Fine of $5 and Costs Apiece—
Other Cases.

Judge Warner is doing a land office business these days in municipal court, and almost every morning now there are one or two among the prisoners who have come to stand up and receive their sentence who are of the gentler sex.

May McDonald and Lena Anderson answered to the charge of frequenting a house of ill fame, but they were really pulled because they had been frequenting a saloon. They were fined $5 each and cost.

J. Colson got a load on last night and wanted a shave at the Warren barber shop after hours. He was judged and this morning paid $5 and costs for his sport.

There were two fresh individuals in court this morning charged with assault in the third degree. Not fresh in the usual way, but they have not been over from Finland long and they were not on to the ways of doing things. They get mad in Finland just the same, and of course had been taught to defend their rights there and that is why they say they licked the stuffing out of one Henry Moliina. They plead not guilty and their case was set for Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The names of the defendants were Freeten Lundquist and Anton Smith.

I. O. O. F. GROWING.

According to the Report of the Grand Secretary There Has been a Substantial Gain Lately.

According to the report of Grand Secretary A. L. Bolton, which was made yesterday at the grand lodge meeting in St. Paul, there has been a substantial gain in the membership of the Odd Fellows since the last grand lodge meeting. The total number of initiations was 1,634. The total membership of the order in Minnesota now is 18,245. The total receipts for the year were $224,009.31. Out of this nearly $30,000 was spent for relief and $125,000 for the ordinary running expenses of the order. The total assets of the order in Minnesota are figured at $1,059,786.36. Incidentally the secretary criticized some subordinate lodges which had grown careless in observance of the ritual. In one lodge the officers had been installed by lady members of the Rebekahs.

As to the women's branch, there are 168 lodges, and they have spent in relief during the year less than $1,500. The expense of the women's branch was close to $10,000.

St. Paul leads with the largest lodge of the order in Minnesota, Capital City lodge, No. 48, being credited with 434 members. Minneapolis has the next largest lodge—the Northern Light, with 365.

Several important amendments to the constitution will be considered. Perhaps the most important is the reduction in the initiatory and degree fee, the figure under the amendment being reduced from $5 to $2. This price is to apply in the case of all degrees and is to be payable on application for admittance. The present figure, it is claimed, greatly handicaps the advance of the order.

Another important amendment is the change in the grand lodge meetings from June to May of each year. The warm period is the excuse offered in this case and there is little doubt but that the amendment will prevail. Nearly a score of other amendments are up for consideration, but those named will have the liveliest consideration.

GLEMAKER—FLOBERG.

Marriage of Rev. N. P. Glemaker and Miss Helen Floberg will be Solemnized at Moorhead, June 29.

Cards are out announcing the approaching marriage of Rev. N. P. Glemaker, pastor of the Swedish Methodist church of this city, to Miss Helen Floberg, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Floberg, at Moorhead, on June 29. The wedding will take place in the evening at 5 o'clock.

The bride has made her home in this city for some time and is particularly well known in Southeast Brainerd, where she has been prominent in church work. Rev. Glemaker also has many friends and is well known in this city.

HE GAVE FIGURES ON A NEW PLANT

Expert F. W. Cappelen Estimates
Cost of New Water Works
Plant Here.

IT WOULD COST ABOUT $200,000

Committee Secures Some Figures and Facts on Matter From This Gentleman.

Before F. W. Cappelen, the expert engineer of Minneapolis, left the city, the committee which has under consideration the water works plant in this city, interviewed the gentleman and secured some information relative to water works and water works systems.

He estimated that the cost of a plant, should the city or a private corporation decide to put one in, would cost, approximately $200,000. He estimated the cost of a pumping station at $35,000 and the cost of laying the mains at $7,000 per mile. Figuring the distance of water mains required in the city at about twenty miles, the cost would be about $140,000.

In addition to this phase of the question Mr. Cappelen gave further information which will be of value to the committee.

TAKEN FOR CARRIE NATION.

Mrs. Rev. Wald, of Christine, N. D., Unconscious of the Fact, Picked Out as the Window Smasher.

There are always a lot of people around the depot in this city whose sole purpose in being there at train time is to watch out for "something doing," and "buttsky" fashion they are the first to pipe off something of unusual occurrence. The wise ones were busier than ever today and quite a furor was created when one of the bunch with a low forehead, gave the reporter a nudge and a look as though he had been smashed in the sneller with a hatchet in a riot, and pointing to a stout, well dressed, pleasant looking woman said, "Dare's Carrie Nation."

Well, the word had been passed down the pike and the rubbernecks, door-step warmers, pikers, soothsayers and gossipers huddled together and began to look dizzy-like at the lady, and every move that she made was watched with interest, for she would surely break out in a minute or two, whip her little hatchet out from beneath the inner linings of her dress, snort the air and open up the campaign in Brainerd in the good old Kansas style.

Finally a well dressed clerical gentleman stepped up to her and one of the wise ones ventured that "he was de main guy" who wrote Carrie's press stuff. But there was nothing but dismay when all these who were looking for "something doing" found that the lady and her escort had boarded the train for Fargo, but it was finally decided that she had passed Brainerd up as a past redemption proposition, and the crowd dispersed to tell their friends up town that they had seen the real thing.

The gentleman referred to above was Rev. Fald, of Christine, N. D., and the lady was none other than his wife, a lady of refinement, who will doubtless not consider it a compliment to learn that she was taken for Carrie Nation.

Rev. and Mrs. Fald had been to Duluth to attend the big United Norwegian Lutheran meeting.

DIED VERY SUDDENLY.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Carmichael Bereaved by the Sudden Taking Off of Their Little Daughter.

Grace Lorette, the four months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Carmichael, of Sixth street north, died this morning at 6 o'clock very suddenly and the parents are heart broken.

The little girl had been sick with the measles, but had almost fully recovered. This morning early she was feeling rather badly and the mother took the child in her arms to rock it to sleep. A short time after this, before a physician could reach the house, the baby died in its mother's arms. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of many friends and neighbors in this city.

Dr. Thabes was called and gave as the cause of death heart failure. (St. Paul and Minneapolis papers please copy.)

BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING.

Miss Barbara Gibb, Daughter of Mr. and Ellsworth Martin.

There was a very pretty home wedding last evening when Miss Barbara Gibb, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibb, who live six miles south of the city, was married to Mr. Ellsworth Martin, formerly of Eagle Lake, east of the city. The ceremony occurred at the home of the bride at 8 o'clock, Rev. A. H. Carver, of this city, officiating.

The parlors were decorated for the event with ferns and roses in profusion. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Gibb, of Minneapolis, and Mr. Fred Martin, brother of the groom was best man. A wedding supper was served after the ceremony.

The bride has been a popular teacher in this county and the groom is a fireman on the Northern Pacific between Staples and St. Paul. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will make their home at Staples. They have the best wishes of a large number of friends in this county.

Crow Wing County Farmers Satisfied that

Crops in Crow Wing county will average up about as well as in former years and in some places they will be a great deal better. While there is a cry of dry weather all over the northwest almost, this section of the country has not felt the drought as much. Early in the spring the prospects were not so good, but then it was on account of too much moisture. The crops are a little late on this account but the weather has been especially favorable and all look for a good yield.

Gollmar Bros. Circus.

In speaking of Gollmar Bros' circus, which is to appear in Brainerd on July 11, an exchange says:

"The performance given here by Gollmar Bros' circus last Wednesday was largely attended at both afternoon and evening performances and were in every respect first class. This has been Gollmar Bros. third visit to our city and they always brought a good show, but since their last visit the show has been enlarged to twice its former size and undoubtedly makes them one of the leading shows of the world. The menagerie alone which is to see is worth the price of admission. The performance under the monster three ring tent was of a high order and appreciated by the large crowd. The street parade which took place at 10 a. m. was a grand display and worth coming miles to see. The proprietors are all gentlemen, kind, courteous and deserve the large patronage they are receiving."

CORONER'S JURY FINDS VERDICT AGAINST UNKNOWN PERSONS AT WILMINGTON.

CORWELL RELEASED ON BAIL

POLICE FORCE KEPT BUSY PUTTING DOWN RIOTS IN WHITE-CHAPEL SECTION.

Wilmington, Del., June 25.—Arthur Corwell, who claims his home in Hartford City, Ind., and who was arrested on the charge of complicity in the burning to death of George White, the negro assailant and murderer of Helen Bishop, was released on $5,000 bail last night. He will be given a further hearing today.

Last night about 2,000 persons gathered in front of the city hall where Corwell was confined and made a demonstration, but dispersed on learning that Corwell was to be released on bail.

The coroner held two sessions of the inquest on the remains of White, the first session bringing a difference of opinion between the coroner and his deputy, John R. Kilmer, which resulted in an open clash. Kilmer thought that Attorney General Ward should have selected the jury, while the coroner maintained the attorney general had no authority in the matter. The coroner carried out his plan and empaneled a jury.

When the inquest began the remains of White could not be found, and after a long search they were found wrapped in paper in an icebox. White weighed about 200 pounds, but only five pounds of flesh and bones were left of him after the lynchers had concluded their work.

No witnesses were present and an adjournment was taken. Later on the coroner again summoned the jury and the inquest was held at night. Thomas L. Leach, a farmer, and William Carter, a newspaper reporter, were the witnesses, and both testified to the finding of the small portions of the remains of the victim of the mob.

Some further testimony was offered, after which the jury brought in the following verdict:

Verdict of the Jury.

"Resolved, that George White came to his death between the hours of 10 p. m. of June 22, 1903, and 4 a. m. of June 23, 1903, by being burned in a field adjoining the road leading from Price's Corner to the Ford's Industrial school by a party or parties unknown to this jury."

What the next step of the authorities will be is not known.

The coroner's inquest having failed to reveal the identity of the leaders in the lynching it is thought the authorities are unable to proceed.

The belief is growing here that no one will ever be punished for the work of the mob. Certain prominent citizens, although they deplore the occurrence, stand ready to raise a fund for the defense of anyone who should be prosecuted for the offense.

Popular feeling is against any further action on the part of the police.

Peter Smith, the Italian boy who was shot while the mob was at work, died last evening of his injuries. Who shot him no one seems to know.

After the crowd at the city hall dispersed, scenes of lawlessness were enacted in different parts of the city. The entire police force was kept busy putting down the riots. In the section known as "Whitechapel," a negro assaulted a white man, and several whites came to the rescue. This brought reinforcements to the negroes and a general fight was started. The negroes outnumbered the whites, who were getting the worst of it when a squad of police arrived. Pistols were fired and the negroes retired within the houses. Participants on both sides received cut heads, but beyond this it is not thought anyone was injured.

Two other small riots occurred.

MISS BRUNO DIES.

Victim of An Unknown Negro Succumbs to Her Injuries.

St. Louis, June 25.—The mystery as to the identity of the negro who assaulted Miss Florence Bruno, a white girl, and Anna Green, a colored woman, Tuesday afternoon between East St. Louis and Belleville is still unsolved. Fifteen suspects who had been arrested since the crime became known have been released after proving an alibi. A colored man named Griffiths, who had been arrested as he came across the river last evening, will be taken to East St. Louis.

Miss Bruno died Wednesday from the effects of her wounds and her fellow victim is thought to be past recovery. It was from the description given by the Green woman during one of her spells of consciousness just after the assaults that the various arrests have been made. As yet she has been unable to identify any of the suspects.

YOUNG MEN FINED.

Had Made a Negro Debtor Work for Them.

Macon, Ga., June 25.—In the United States court here, Judge Speer imposed a fine of $1,000 each on three young men, William Shy, Arthur Clawson and Robert Turner for holding a negro in involuntary servitude. He suspended the fine under conditions.

The offense was that the young men, who are prominent farmers, caught a negro who had gotten in debt to them, gave him a whipping and made him go to work for them.

Montgomery, Ala., June 25.—In the United States court, J. W. Pace, a prominent planter of Tallapoosa county, was arraigned for trial on eleven indictments charging him with peonage. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to five years imprisonment in each case.

LIPTON AT NEW YORK.

Owner of Shamrock III, Praises His New Yacht.

New York, June 25.—Sir Thomas Lipton arrived on the Oceanic during the day. At quarantine Sir Thomas said he was glad to arrive in port once more. He said the challenger would have a spin outside on Saturday.

"She is a remarkable boat. I know you people have a good one, but the Shamrock III is a remarkable boat."

He was also anxious to learn all about the qualities of the Reliance and when told of that yacht's performances he said:

"This was all in light weather, was it not? However we have a remarkable boat."

Sir Thomas Lipton was the guest of honor at a dinner given at night at the Waldorf-Astoria by a score of his friends. Major General Henry C. Corbin presided. Several speeches were made, and Sir Thomas reiterated his statement that he wanted to win from the best boat America could produce.

FURTHER DEMORALIZED.

Excursion Rates From St. Paul to Chicago Reduced.

Milwaukee, June 25.—Demoralization in the Western passenger rate situation developed further Wednesday. The Wisconsin Central road announced its intention of making the $8 rate now in effect between Chicago and St. Paul the basis for computing all excursion rates. The Wisconsin Central's action will have the effect of reducing all excursion rates from St. Paul to Chicago by $3.50.

Strike May Be General.

Chicago, June 25.—A general strike of all the freight handlers employed by the railroads centering in Chicago may follow the calling out of the Chicago and Alton men, unless the management of the Alton road shall recede from the stand taken.

Drawing to a Close.

Duluth, June 25.—The conference of the United Norwegian Lutheran church of America, which has been held here since June 17, will draw to a close today. Wednesday's deliberations were largely of a routine character.

GAS FROM FIR STUMPS

New Illuminant Discovered by Professor Frankforter.

HAS STRONG HEATING POWER.

By Means of "Destructive Distillation" the Dean of Minnesota University's Chemistry School Removes Turpentine and Tar, and This Process Develops the Gas. Each Stump of Douglas Fir Worth $200.

Discovery of a new illuminating gas which can compete with coal gas for illuminating purposes, the detection of processes by which a new turpentine in limitless quantity and of properties permitting its general use in manufactures and the arts, can be produced from material formerly thought worthless, and the solution of the problem of utilizing the byproducts of the great Douglas fir, forests of which cover thousands of square miles of the Pacific northwest, are the recent achievements of Professor George P. Frankforter, dean of the school of chemistry of the University of Minnesota, says a St. Paul special dispatch to the New York Herald.

Professor Frankforter's discoveries are the result of many months of experiments in the western forests and in the laboratories of the state university and are of immense commercial value. They relate entirely to the utilization of stumps of the Douglas fir left by the lumbermen and until now thought to have no value. These stumps cover a tremendous area of western "cut over" timber lands, and so little have they been regarded that it has been the custom to burn them out to rid the land of them and to permit agricultural operations. The burning process left ash deposit which for several years robbed the soil of its agricultural values. For each stump burned Professor Frankforter announces the owners have thrown away the equivalent of $200.

The Douglas fir is one of the best of the western timber trees and is much sought for building purposes. Its lower portions are filled with a resinous pitch, and the portions containing the pitch deposits have been valueless for lumber because of the impossibility of forcing the saws through the pitch soaked fibers of the log. For this reason the lumbermen have cut the trees, frequently eight to ten feet in diameter, at a height of twenty feet from the ground. This left the pitch soaked stump standing, to be burned or allowed to rot away.

Announcing the results of his discoveries, Professor Frankforter said the other day:

"It has long been known that the pitch in the abandoned stumps had a commercial value, but means of extracting it have not been at hand. It was to provide these means that I spent months experimenting. I have been astounded to find, by exact scientific methods, that 40 per cent of the abandoned stumps is valuable pitch. This pitch, properly treated, produces a turpentine inestimably superior to that now obtained from the southern forests, the supply of which is decreasing year by year.

"The new turpentine has all the chemical and medicinal qualities of the common commercial turpentine, but is absolutely free from its disagreeable smell and taste. These two features have been the greatest drawback to the more general use of turpentine in manufactures and the arts. The odor of the fir turpentine is mild and balsamic, and its taste is mild and pleasant. It might be utilized in a thousand ways, even in chewing gum and for soda fountain flavors, so pleasant is its taste.

"To give tersely the results, I will say that each stump contains 40 per cent of its bulk in pitch. It contains five or six cords of wood. Of the pitch in the stump 20 per cent can easily be resolved into turpentine, 30 per cent into tar oil and 50 per cent into common tar. The tar is an excellent product and can find ready sale. The minor product is pyroligneous acid, containing acetic acid.

"All the products of the fir stumps can be removed by what is technically known as 'destructive distillation.' One of the most marvelous features is that during the distillation process the fir gives out a gas of strong heating and illuminating powers, sufficient to maintain the process and furnish the means of extracting the products desired for commercial purposes. The distillation pays for itself and leaves the products of the pitch practically clear profit.

"After all the products have been extracted—turpentine, tar oil, tar, acids, gas—there is still left a charcoal the superior of which is hard to find. Regarding the gas given off, it is a strong illuminant, and with reduction operations carried on on a large scale it would be produced in volume sufficient to conduct extensive gas lighting operations.

"A new source of turpentine at this juncture is especially important. I have made thorough tests of the western product and am able to announce that the south has a new competitor in the field which will supply a better article and in larger quantity than it has ever been able to do. The United States yearly supplies three-fourths of all the turpentine used throughout the world."

Professor Frankforter has been conducting his experiments at New Whatcom, Wash., where there are large mills and extensive forests.

NO NAMES ARE GIVEN
CORONER'S JURY FINDS VERDICT
AGAINST UNKNOWN PERSONS
AT WILMINGTON.
CORWELL RELEASED ON BAIL
POLICE FORCE KEPT BUSY PUT-TING DOWN RIOTS IN WHITE-CHAPEL SECTION.

Wilmington, Del., June 25.—Arthur Corwell, who claims his home in Hartford City, Ind., and who was arrested on the charge of complicity in the burning to death of George White, the negro assailant and murderer of Helen Bishop, was released on $5,000 bail last night. He will be given a further hearing today.

Last night about 2,000 persons gathered in front of the city hall where Corwell was confined and made a demonstration, but dispersed on learning that Corwell was to be released on bail.

The coroner held two sessions of the inquest on the remains of White, the first session bringing a difference of opinion between the coroner and his deputy, John R. Kilmer, which resulted in an open clash. Kilmer thought that Attorney General Ward should have selected the jury, while the coroner maintained the attorney general had no authority in the matter. The coroner carried out his plan and empanelled a jury.

When the inquest began the remains of White could not be found, and after a long search they were found wrapped in paper in an icebox. White weighed about 200 pounds, but only five pounds of flesh and bones were left of him after the lynchers had concluded their work.

No witnesses were present and an adjournment was taken. Later on the coroner again summoned the jury and the inquest was held at night. Thomas L. Leach, a farmer, and William Carter, a newspaper reporter, were the witnesses, and both testified to the finding of the small portions of the remains of the victim of the mob.

Some further testimony was offered, after which the jury brought in the following verdict:

Verdict of the Jury.
"Resolved, that George White came to his death between the hours of 10
p. m. of June 22, 1903, and 4 a. m. of June 23, 1903, by being burned in a field adjoining the road leading from Price's Corner to the Ford's Industrial school by a party or parties unknown to this jury."

What the next step of the authorities will be is not known.
The coroner's inquest having failed to reveal the identity of the leaders in the lynching it is thought the authorities are unable to proceed.

The belief is growing here that no one will ever be punished for the work of the mob. Certain prominent citizens, although they deplore the occurrence, stand ready to raise a fund for the defense of anyone who should be prosecuted for the offense.

Popular feeling is against any further action on the part of the police.
Peter Smith, the Italian boy who was shot while the mob was at work, died last evening of his injuries. Who shot him no one seems to know.

After the crowd at the city hall dispersed, scenes of lawlessness were enacted in different parts of the city. The entire police force was kept busy putting down the riots. In the section known as "Whitechapel," a negro assaulted a white man, and several whites came to the rescue. This brought reinforcements to the negroes and a general fight was started. The negroes outnumbered the whites, who were getting the worst of it when a squad of police arrived. Pistols were fired and the negroes retired within the houses. Participants on both sides received cut heads, but beyond this it is not thought anyone was injured.
Two other small riots occurred.

MISS BRUNO DIES.
Victim of An Unknown Negro Succumbs to Her Injuries.

St. Louis, June 25.—The mystery as to the identity of the negro who assaulted Miss Florence Bruno, a white girl, and Anna Green, a colored woman, Tuesday afternoon between East St. Louis and Belleville is still unsolved. Fifteen suspects who had been arrested since the crime became known have been released after proving an alibi. A colored man named Griffiths, who had been arrested as he came across the river last evening, will be taken to East St. Louis.

Miss Bruno died Wednesday from the effects of her wounds and her fellow victim is thought to be past recovery. It was from the description given by the Green woman during one of her spells of consciousness just after the assaults that the various arrests have been made. As yet she has been unable to identify any of the suspects.

YOUNG MEN FINED.
Had Made a Negro Debtor Work for Them.

Macon, Ga., June 25.—In the United States court here, Judge Speer imposed a fine of $1,000 each on three young men, William Shy, Arthur Clav-son and Robert Turner for holding a negro in involuntary servitude. He suspended the fine under conditions.
The offense was that the young men, who are prominent farmers, caught a negro who had gotten in debt to them, gave him a whipping and made him go to work for them.

Montgomery, Ala., June 25.—In the United States court, J. W. Pace, a prominent planter of Tallapoosa county, was arraigned for trial on eleven indictments charging him with peonage. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to five years imprisonment in each case.

LIPTON AT NEW YORK.
Owner of Shamrock III. Praises His New Yacht.

New York, June 25.—Sir Thomas Lipton arrived on the Oceanic during the day. At quarantine Sir Thomas said he was glad to arrive in port once more. He said the challenger would have a spin outside on Saturday.
"She is a remarkable boat. I know you people have a good one, but the Shamrock III. is a remarkable boat."
He was anxious to learn all about the qualities of the Reliance and when told of that yacht's performances he said:
"This was all in light weather, was it not? However we have a remarkable boat."

Sir Thomas Lipton was the guest of honor at a dinner given at night at the Waldorf-Astoria by a score of his friends. Major General Henry C. Corbin presided. Several speeches were made, and Sir Thomas reiterated his statement that he wanted to win from the best boat America could produce.

FURTHER DEMORALIZED.
Excursion Rates From St. Paul to Chicago Reduced.

Milwaukee, June 25.—Demoralization in the Western passenger rate situation developed further Wednesday.
The Wisconsin Central road announced its intention of making the $8 rate
now in effect between Chicago and St.
Paul the basis for computing all excursion rates. The Wisconsin Central's action will have the effect of reducing all excursion rates from St.
Paul to Chicago by $5.50.

Strike May Be General.
Chicago, June 25.—A general strike of all the freight handlers employed by the railroads centering in Chicago may follow the calling out of the Chicago and Alton men, unless the management of the Alton road shall recede from the stand taken.

Drawing to a Close.
Duluth, June 25.—The conference of the United Norwegian Lutheran church of America, which has been held here since June 17, will draw to a close today. Wednesday's deliberations were largely of a routine character.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

An immense building trades strike is threatened in New York.

The annual race between Yale and Harvard will be rowed on the Thames today.

GAS FROM FIR STUMPS
New Illuminant Discovered by Professor Frankforter.

HAS STRONG HEATING POWERS.

By Means of "Destructive Distillation" the Dean of Minnesota University's Chemistry School Removes Turpentine and Tar, and
This Process Develops the Gas.
Each Stump of Douglas Fir Worth $200.

Discovery of a new illuminating gas which can compete with coal gas for illuminating purposes, the detection of processes by which a new turpentine in limitless quantity and of properties permitting its general use in manufactures and the arts, can be produced from material formerly thought worthless, and the solution of the problem of utilizing the byproducts of the great Douglas fir, forests of which cover thousands of square miles of the Pacific northwest, are the recent achievements of Professor George P. Frank-forter, dean of the school of chemistry of the University of Minnesota, says a St. Paul special dispatch to the New York Herald.

Professor Frankforter's discoveries are the result of many months of experiments in the western forests and in the laboratories of the state university and are of immense commercial value.
They relate entirely to the utilization of stumps of the Douglas fir left by the lumbermen and until now thought to have no value. These stumps cover a tremendous area of western "cut over" timber lands, and so little have they been regarded that it has been the custom to burn them out to rid the land of them and to permit agricultural operations. The burning process left ash deposit which for several years robbed the soil of its agricultural values. For each stump burned Professor Frankforter announces the owners have thrown away the equivalent of $200.

The Douglas fir is one of the best of the western timber trees and is much sought for building purposes. Its lower portions are filled with a resinous pitch, and the portions containing the pitch deposits have been valueless for lumber because of the impossibility of forcing the saws through the pitch soaked fibers of the log. For this reason the lumbermen have cut the trees, frequently eight to ten feet in diameter, at a height of twenty feet from the ground. This left the pitch soaked stump standing, to be burned or allowed to rot away.

Announcing the results of his discoveries, Professor Frankforter said
the other day:

"It has long been known that the pitch in the abandoned stumps had a commercial value, but means of extracting it have not been at hand. It was to provide these means that I spent months experimenting. I have been astounded to find, by exact scientific methods, that 40 per cent of the abandoned stumps is valuable pitch.
This pitch, properly treated, produces a turpentine inestimably superior to that now obtained from the southern forests, the supply of which is decreas-ing year by year.

"The new turpentine has all the chemical and medicinal qualities of the common commercial turpentine, but is absolutely free from its disagreeable smell and taste. These two features have been the greatest drawback to the more general use of turpentine in manufactures and the arts. The odor of the fir turpentine is mild and balsamic, and its taste is mild and pleasant. It might be utilized in a thousand ways, even in chewing gum and for soda fountain flavors, so pleasant is its taste.

"To give tersely the results, I will say that each stump contains 40 per cent of its bulk in pitch. It contains five or six cords of wood. Of the pitch in the stump 20 per cent can easily be resolved into turpentine, 30 per cent into tar oil and 50 per cent into common tar. The tar is an excellent product and can find ready sale. The minor product is pyroigneous acid, containing acetic acid.

"All the products of the fir stumps can be removed by what is technically known as 'destructive distillation.' One of the most marvelous features is that during the distillation process the fir gives out a gas of strong heating and illuminating powers, sufficient to maintain the process and furnish the means of extracting the products desired for commercial purposes. The distillation pays for itself and leaves the products of the pitch practically clear profit.

"After all the products have been extracted—turpentine, tar oil, tar, acids, gas—there is still left a charcoal the superior of which is hard to find. Regarding the gas given off, it is a strong illuminant, and with reduction operations carried on on a large scale it would be produced in volume sufficient to conduct extensive gas lighting operations.

"A new source of turpentine at this junction is especially important. I have made thorough tests of the western product and am able to announce that the south has a new competitor in the field which will supply a better article and in larger quantity than it has ever been able to do. The United States yearly supplies three-fourths of the turpentine used throughout the world."

Professor Frankforter has been conducting his experiments at New What-com, Wash., where there are large mills and extensive forests.
